"Multilevel Anti-Leakage Examination Paper System"
The examination is the heart of education system. A small mistake by anyone who is involved in the examination system, can have the question papers leaked. Thus, it becomes difficult to manage all the re-conducts of examination in short span of time.
To deal with the above mentioned problem, a system has been developed, which provides a multilevel security check to secure the examination process where in a secured box has been designed which provides superfluous security.
